

THE GIFT of CLEAN WATER

A Story of Hope

Boru Sako, a 9-year-old boy from Kenya, traveled long distances with his siblings to fetch water from a contaminated water source. The journey was dangerous and the children had to carry the water back in heavy jerrycans. The family then carefully rationed the dirty water, which often made them ill. Fortunately, friends like you gifted Boru Sako's community a clean water well. His family – and entire community – are now healthy and thriving.

A LIFE-CHANGING GIFT

has been given

IN YOUR HONOR

A gift of clean water can be life-changing for impoverished communities, families, and children. This gift helps vulnerable families have access to clean water for drinking, cooking, bathing, and watering crops.