A Story of Hope

For many living in poverty, it can be challenging to earn enough income to pay for school-related fees. Young Alice in Rwanda didn't go to school because she couldn't afford a school uniform, which was a requirement. Without an education, Alice would have been locked into the generational cycle of poverty. But with help from friends like you, FH provided Alice with a uniform. Now she can go to school and work toward her dream of becoming a doctor.
